Materials

Thermo Ash Decking and Cladding

Thermo ash is wood is natural hard wood that has been heat treated up to 200 degrees using only steam. This is a chemical free process that gives the wood a rich colour and negates the need for further treatment with chemicals. It also gives the wood exceptional durability by removing moisture and nutrients from the wood, thereby making it unappealing to mould, rot and pests.

Hemp Block Wall

Hemp is a naturally strong material and makes a very good building material. It also provides excellent thermal regulation and humidity control. It offers a sustainable, non toxic and fire retardant alternative to traditional building materials. Hemp is also a nectar rich plant so very beneficial to butterflies.
